

Newsletter

Stakeholder Report April 2009

Habitat for Humanity Jordan, B.O Box 910614, Amman 11191, Jordan
www.habitatjordan.org info@habitatjordan.org +962-6-461 2081

Fikrat, and Abrar (7months)

With a big smile

By Thomas Stocker, National Director

With a big smile Fikrat tells us that just three days ago they were able to move into their new house.

They say that now they can live in peace and without fear of pieces of sealing falling down as was the case in their old house. They recount the day when a piece of sealing fell down in their old house and damaged their refrigerator. Now they can relax when guests come and enjoy their company instead of worrying about the dangers associated with their old house.

(Read more one page 2)

KEY FACTS

22 families served last quarter

72 families served this fiscal year (July 08- March 09)

481 families served since 2001

- - - -

105 loans paid off

376 active loans

- - - -

86% repayment rate within 90 days

Thank you

On behalf of the communities and home owners helped during this past quarter we like to express our deep appreciation and thank you to all who volunteered, prayed and contributed financially to the work of Habitat for Humanity Jordan.

Volunteers from Spain, Dubai and US build houses in Jordan

During last quarter Habitat for Humanity Jordan successfully brought together over 50 volunteers to build decent houses and communities with people in need.

With a big smile

Homeowner Story: Najah, Fikrat, Hamsah and Asmah

Continue from page 1

Najah and Fikrat her sister live with Hamsah and Asmah (left on picture). Hamsah and Asmah have two daughters Shiras (2 years old) and Abrar (7 months old).

The old house they lived in was in bad condition so that they had to worry when it rained. Now they are proud of their new well build house that they were able to build with the help of Habitat.

Hamsah the husband who works in the military used to host his friends outside because he could not invite them into the old house because lacking sufficient space. He is happy that now he can invite his friends to his house and offer them hospitality in their freshly painted living room.

We chose the color of the walls together after receiving advice from our nephew and visiting other houses

Finished house